MAGICAL PRODUCTION

Our globally unique specialty is the elaborate production of hats following old English traditions, which allow us to work the hat felting made from pure natural hair particularly carefully. This rare production method is only possible with manual work and it is from this elaborate process with more than 60 - 80 steps that the felting gets its remarkable stability.

"Felt is fed when it's hot and wet"
is our hatter's saying.

Our raw material of finest rabbit hair or natural hair can only be worked with heat, pressure and moisture. The longer and more intensive the crafting by hand, the more stable the finished hat. The main focus of our manual crafting is the durability, functionality and individual look.

FOR FIVE GENERATIONS ...

... the "Hat King" has been a well-loved address for hat enthusiasts from around the world. Thanks to the farsightedness of our forefathers, expertise developed over more than 100 years across five generations, the old, hardly changed workshop where we still work with steam, the traditional tools of the craft from generations ago, which are still used today, and the 10,000 hat templates of the most varied kinds from various eras, the columns of hat manufacturing can be found in Regensburg.

With tradition come obligations - today three generations are at your service.

WELCOME TO THE HAT KINGDOM

Our family-run business has set itself the ambitious goal of putting a hat on every head - just as it used to be. Men are wearing hats again. Women, too. It is not just our location, the beautiful and mystical medieval city of Regensburg, that has made us a figurehead for traditional handcraft and an ambassador for the city - the media also keep coming back to us when they want more than just a story. And they find them again and again in our "Hat Kingdom."

From the Pope to playboys ...

... Royal households and princes, presidents and their wives, the nobility from all over Europe and many famous artists from film, radio and television have faith in our quality.

We understand that, no matter where they are from, the next person through our doors is looking for something special and will find something unique.
